DETAILED ACTION

A request for continued examination under 37 CFR 1.114, including the fee set forth in 37 CFR 1.17(e), was filed in this application after final rejection. Since this application is eligible for continued examination under 37 CFR 1.114, and the fee set forth in 37 CFR 1.17(e) has been timely paid, the finality of the previous Office action has been withdrawn pursuant to 37 CFR 1.114.

Applicants' response, filed 26 July 2006, has been fully considered. Rejections and/or objections not reiterated from previous office actions are hereby withdrawn. The following rejections and/or objections are either reiterated or newly applied. They constitute the complete set presently being applied to the instant application.

Claims 13-16 are currently pending. Claims 1-12 and 17-27 have been cancelled.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 101

35 U.S.C. 101 reads as follows:

Whoever invents or discovers any new and useful process, machine, manufacture, or composition of matter, or any new and useful improvement thereof, may obtain a patent therefor, subject to the conditions and requirements of this title.

Claims 13-16 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 101 because the claimed invention is not supported by either a specific, substantial asserted utility or a well-established utility.

Claims 13-16 are drawn to a system for computer implemented adjustment of signal data and time data of chromatographic elution profiles. The claims are directed more specifically to a series of mathematical steps comprising plotting data sets, selecting time points, adjusting a baseline, normalizing peaks, and shifting profiles so that certain values can be used to group elution profiles. The specification does provide a utility for utilizing the shifted profiles to generate values that are utilized for comparison to controls in order to detect mutations.

However, the specification does not set forth an asserted utility for merely shifting profiles that can be used to group elution profiles. One of skill in the art would not know what to do with the elution profiles generated, as there is no specific utility set forth for the profiles themselves. The utility asserted in the specification therefore, is not commensurate with what is claimed.

Claims 13-16 also rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph. Specifically, since the claimed invention is not supported by either a specific, substantial asserted utility or a well established utility for the reasons set forth above, one skilled in the art clearly would not know how to use the claimed invention.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

Claims 13-16 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

Claim 13 recites “shifting each of the profiles along said first axis such that all of the profiles intersect at a pre-selected point on the last eluting peak of each profile within said time span so that values from the plurality of chromatographic elution profiles can be used to group the plurality of chromatographic elution profiles”. It is unclear whether or not the processor of claim 13 actually is grouping the elution profiles or if the processor is merely shifting the profiles. Grouping appears to be an intended result. Clarification is requested.

Art Unit: 1631

No claims are allowed.

Note: If Applicants desire further discussion and clarification of the rejections and issues herein,

Applicant's are strongly encouraged to request an interview with the Examiner.
